"IN DIXIELAND."

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

Miss Florence Giles has returned to her home in Jacksonville, Fla., much to the regret of her numerous friends in Atlanta. Miss Giles spent the fall and winter in this city visiting with her aunt. Mrs. J. J. Bugg, of 24 Atwood Ave., West End Section. While here Miss Giles took an active interest in the affairs of the Woman's Club, and was also a pleasing addition to all social affairs of the younger set. She has promised to return to our city in the fall and assist in the planning for the 1923 convention of the N. A. D.

Mr. William W. McLean, of this city, a skilled automobile machinist, is now in business for himself, together with a filling station and vulcanizing department on Gordon Street, opposite West View Cemetery, a very desirable location, as thousands of cars pass in and out here every day. Mr. McLean is the first deaf man in Georgia, to our knowledge, to venture in a business of this sort for himself and we are all watching his progress with interest, and it is needless to say that we are all boosting for William. We learn that he has made an excellent beginning, as many as thirty and over cars being left at his shop daily for repair, to say nothing of the filling departments intake. He has already had to employ an assistant to help with the repair work, besides a negro to attend to the filling. This is good and we heartily congratulate William and wish him every success in his new business venture. We know him to be a hardworking, ambitious fellow, and we feel sure he will build up a fine paying business for himself some day. We have often wondered why others of the deaf did not go into business for themselves instead of being satisfied to remain wage earners all their lives. We hope to see others follow William's example before long and become their own boss.

The ladies of this city are seeking a more suitable and lasting name for their club. This club was formerly called the 1921 club, and more recently the 1923 club, or Ladies Auxiliary to the N. A. D. As none of these names were ever intended to be permanent, the ladies are now looking for a good and appropriate name that will stick for always. They desire to find a name as early as possible, in order to have it engraved upon the Silver Cup which this woman's branch of the local N. A. D. is offering the state in the "Associate Member" list which is most prompt in fulfilling the financial obligations set forth in President Cloud's circular letter sent each "associate state member" some time ago, and, at the same time obtain the largest number of new members to the N. A. D. by July 30, 1923. Atlanta has a wide-awake and energetic bunch of ladies, and the object of their club mainly is to get behind every good movement started here in Atlanta looking to the welfare and advancement of the deaf of this city and state, and seeing to it that every drive started to obtain money for our various good works goes "over the top." Any one suggesting a suitable and appropriate name for this club will please send their suggestion to Mrs. J. G. Bishop, 536 Spring St., Atlanta, Ga. Get busy, send in your list of names. It only costs a 2-cent stamp to try. The sender of the name finally chosen by the committee will receive $2.00 for their trouble, as well as considerable advertising as the lucky winner.

Mrs. Maggie Walker, of Lithonia, Ga., is in the city visiting her daughter, Mrs. Worth Tate in East Point. Since the death of her husband, Mr. George W. Walker, recently, Mrs. Walker has found her home too lonely for her and has spent most of the time here with her daughter. She may sell out her holdings in Lithonia and remove to Atlanta in the near future, so we are informed.

All of our wide-awake and loyal N. A. D. members at Savannah have sent in their special 25 cents per month assessment for the 1923 convention fund to the treasurer, Mr. Freeman. Each member paid a full year in advance. This is good and shows that the Savannah members are made up of the right sort of people and willing to shoulder their share of the burden of entertaining this convention. If all of our Georgia members would pay up as well as these people of Savannah did, this office would not be forced to waste so much time and postage in an effort to get each and every branch member to assume their pro rata of the necessary expenses of entertaining this body in 1923. Miss Viola Weil of 414 Waldburg St., E. Savannah, Ga., is our local representative at that place and any one in and around Savannah who wish to pay up their assessment, or donate money or articles to be sold for benefit of this fund, will please see or write her. She is fully authorized to collect money or articles to be sold for benefit of the fund, and will sent same to this office. Write her.

The Silent Observer, can no longer be referred to as "silent," in fact as well as in name, by the other school papers. It is no longer silent. The last copy reaching this office we find enlarged and very greatly improved, and wonder of wonders, it has at last woke up to the fact that we are to have a National convention in the southland next year. We clip the following from the editorial page of the paper for which we presume that our "associate member" for Tennessee is responsible.

"The deaf of several other states have pledged various sums of money as their contribution to the N. A. D. convention fund for the 1923 convention, to be held in Atlanta. Is Tennessee going to give anything, or shall we 'let George do it'?"

Our answer to this and to our Tennessee friends is to "wake up." "Get busy." Don't, oh, don't let George do everything. George is already overwhelmed with work planning to make this convention a convention that will go down in history as "the greatest ever." Pull off your coat and roll up your sleeves and help poor George out.

Fred Ward, the deaf and dumb boy who ran away from his Asheville, N. C., home, a month ago and made his way to Atlanta, where legal authorities and welfare agencies took him in charge, held him for two weeks and then released him, has returned to his father in Asheville, news dispatches revealed Thursday. And now Fred's father is suing the Southern Railroad in Asheville for $15,000 damages because its agent there sold the boy a ticket when he started away from home.

Dispatches say the lad's father charged in his suit that the ticket agent failed to use diligence and forethought in providing him with transportation.

Fred's case attracted attention locally when he turned up at Decatur in charge of Sheriff McCurdy of DeKalb county. The sheriff didn't know what to do with him, so he sent him to the Atlanta police. The case was just as puzzling to the Atlanta authorities, so, on the strength of a statement that Fred was a former soldier, they sent him to the public health service hospital of the government. Ascertaining the boy's name and address, he was released and turned over to relatives.—Atlanta Journal.

Mr. Irby H. Marchman, an old Georgia boy, now connected with the Lauder and Shean Device Manufacturing Company, of Valley Stream, L. I., N. Y., and Mr. Sears of the same company, are in the city on business connected with this company.

BOSTON.

A whist party and dance was held at Fox Hall, Dorchester, by the Deaf Okisapi Club (formerly Camp Fire Girls), on February 7th. The whist winners were Arthur Wood, first prize; Edith Fowler, second prize; Elizabeth Freeman and Herbert Colby, booth.

The Altar Guild held their Fair at Trinity Church, January 26th, and did well.

The Altar Guild whist party was held at Miss Florence Wetmore's residence in Wollaston, Mass., February 18th.

Mr. Tristram W. Ellis, of Bourne, Mass., was admitted to the Home in January. The Home is now full to capacity, with a waiting list.

Twenty-eight members met at the new home of Treasurer Mrs. Gross, at Montserrat, Mass., on February 1st.

Mrs. Clara Trowt took charge of the Washington Birthday party at the Home, Wednesday afternoon and evening, with Miss Gladys Gillies and the writer on the committee. Despite the bad weather the profit was $28.76.

We regret to state that the Building Fund of the Home remains the same, $856.58. Will not some heart be touched by the condition of the helpless ones still waiting for admission to the new Home, and think quickly of something, any thing that will bring more money, and give them a chance to enjoy its comfort, even if only for a few months ere they leave this world. Donations can be sent to Mrs. D. Gross, 8 Spring Street, Beverly, Mass.

Mrs. K. Gill will give a whist party at her home, 28 Temple St., W. Roxbury, on Saturday evening, March 18th.

The N. E. J. D. A. held their business meeting at the Boston Y. M. H. A., on Seaver and Humboldt Avenues, February 19th, and was attended by many new members and new faces. They now have a room for their benefit at the Y. M. H. A., where they meet every Sunday afternoon and evening.

All are welcome during the social hours. On Monday, March 14th, they will give a whist entertainment, at the West End Y. M. H. A., 47 Mt. Vernon Street. Every one is invited to attend. Aaron Kravitz is the chairman, with Irving Simon and Harry Rosenstein on the committee.

The members of the Benevolent Association of the Deaf visited Miss Sarah Fuller, the beloved Principal of the Horace Mann School, and surprised her on her birthday on February 12th, by presenting her a basket of fruit. She is now 86 years old, and still healthy.

Harry Rosenstein, one of the popular fellows among the deaf circle in Boston, has just passed his annual examinations, which are used by Post Office employees to maintain their position or for promotion. His present examination mark is 98 per cent. He will be assigned to the Grade B Department. Now he is preparing hard, looking forward to becoming one of the special clerks in his department, where they receive great volumes of mail to be distributed to all parts of the United States.

There were over 250 guests at the Massachusetts Benevolent Association of the Deaf (formerly Horace Mann Benevolent Association) Ball, held Tuesday evening, February 21st, in Beacon Hall, Brookline. It was one of the biggest nights the Association ever had. It started with an hour's concert by the Nickerson's Orchestra, followed by a Grand March, headed by President Lowenberg of the Association with Miss Mabel F. Adams, Principal of the Horace Mann School, and several dances on the programme were indulged in by practically everybody present.

The affair was successful socially as well as financially. The Committee of Arrangements were: Hyman Lowenberg (ex-officio), Chester Heeger, Harry C. Dickerson, J. Stanley Light, Chairman.

The following served as Floor Committee: William J. Bingham (Chief of Aids), Samuel I. Bachner, William P. Browne, Arthur J. Doherty, Thomas J. Kelly, Aaron Kravitz, Michael Kornblum, Morris Miller, William Richards, Jr., Harry Rosenstein, George F. Bingham, Herbert N. Colby, Paul C. Mitchell, George W. Pike, Albert E. Dunbar, Lawrence E. Harris, Ambrose E. Young, James B. Coon, William H. Ghill, William Berg and others.

They danced the modern up-to-date jazz to the music of popular airs, with as much agility and rhythm as their more fortunate hearing brethren.

The trombone blared away, the bass drummer boomed, the fiddler fiddled and the piano romped through octave after octave, yet not a person in the Ball room heard it. But all the musical racket set the air and the walls and the floor vibrating, and these vibrations coming up through the soles of dancing slippers or stockings to the chests of the deaf-mutes, guided them through the motions of the dance. Whether it was waltz or fox-trot or one step, their time and rhythm was perfect.

The Altar Guild held their Valentine Social at Trinity Church, Friday, February 24th.

A Mock Trial will be given on Saturday evening, March 11th, at seven o'clock, at 316 Huntington Avenue, near Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, by the Ostrum Confectionary Co.

Mrs. Alice V. Brown, of Worcester, slipped and sprained her ankle on the ice February 10th, and is confined to her bed. Mrs. Bertha Tator takes good care of her during her misfortune.

The Next Fraternity Conclave.

Preparations for the 1924 Convention of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf are under way in St. Paul, where the gathering is to be held. The local committee, composed of J. J. McNeil, chairman, J. S. S. Bowen, secretary; Anton Schroeder, business manager, Max Cohen, treasurer, P. L. Axling, press agent; Fred Brant, P. E. Cadwell, J. C. Howard, of Duluth, and V. R. Spence, of Faribault, was organized sometime ago. The first and foremost question that came before the committee at its first meeting was that of finances. A free and full discussion was had, and every one left the meeting well satisfied that we would be able to readily raise all the money that would be needed—some setting the figure at about $7,000. At the February meeting of St. Paul Division the committee chairman was delegated to present a proposition that every member of the Division be asked to pledge ten dollars each, to be paid in installments, between now and the date of the convention.

After a brief discussion the proposition was put to a vote and carried unanimously. Since then a large number of pledges have been signed and placed in the committee treasurer's hands, and considerable cash paid in.

Thus the local committee of the "biggest and best yet" convention of the Society starts out with a fund of $140 assured. Several social affairs to raise additional funds are being planned for the near future. Each member of the committee has come work cut out for him, and circulars and advertising matter are being prepared. Business men, of St. Paul, commercial and booster organizations, hotels, and other interests that will be benefited by such a gathering as will be here during the convention, are to be visited by members of the committee and pledges for further financial support secured. St. Paul business interests are proverbially liberal supporters of any legitimate enterprise that will benefit the community and every member feels safe in asserting that the full quota required for the local expenses of the convention will be secured well in advance of the date of the gathering.

The "Ten Thousand Lakes" slogan, used as extensively by a number of Minnesota's booster organizations, will be kept to the fore by the local committee, and it is suggested that parties contemplating a few weeks' vacation during the summer of 1924, plan their outings as to spend part of the time among the innumerable lakes in close proximity to the Twin Cities, attend the Fraternity Convention and finish their outings in other parts of the State.

Go where you may, you cannot escape the fact that Minnesota has more lakes within her borders than any other single State in the Union.
P. C. AXLING.

AN APPEAL.

We hope the JOURNAL readers will contribute to the very worthy cause set forth in the appeal of Mr. Tse Tien Fu.

Nationality should not play a part in helping our brethren who are deaf. All the world of deaf-mutes are brothers and sisters. Their concern and trouble should be ours. Let us all help in conferring upon one or more deaf-mutes the blessings of education.

Contributions sent to E. A. Hodgson, Editor DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, P. O. Station M, New York City will be publicly acknowledged, and forwarded promptly.

APPEAL OF THE HANGCHOW PRIVATE SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

The school for the Deaf in Hangchow has been running for seven years. There are many students who are anxious to come. But we are in short of fund, we are not able to receive them all. We feel very sorry that we have to turn them away.

Some time ago we received $75.00 through Silent Worker toward the fund of our school. We are indeed grateful. Our students will never forget the kindness of our foreign friends.

At present we are sending out an appeal through DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL in hope that those who are interested in our Deaf School in Hangchow may be willing to contribute some money to help the school in order that we may receive more students. The deaf through the agency of our work may also receive the Gospel. Those who desire to contribute please send their money to Mr. Edwin A. Hodgson.

Sincerely yours,

TSE TIEN FU.

Reading, Pa.

The February meeting of the P. S. A. D., was in the nature of a Valentine Party. Interesting games were played and refreshments served. A neat sum was added to the treasury for the Home fund.

Mr. and Mrs. David Tobias recently celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary by entertaining a number of friends at a dinner party at their home. Mr. and Mrs. Tobias received numerous gifts.

Mrs. George Fister, of Fleetwood, was a patient in a local hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. She has returned home again and is recuperating nicely.

Rev. F. C. Smolan held services in Christ Chapel and delivered an impressive sermon.

An enjoyable party was given in honor of Mrs. Roger Williams' birthday. Various games were played and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess. Among the many guests was Mrs. Williams' father from Souderton.

Mr. Thomas Knaut was host at a party in celebration of his birthday.

Mr. Paul Albert is a dutiful son who makes a monthly visit to his mother in Myerstown.

Mr. Harry Sommers made a visit to Lancaster.

After an absence of several weeks Mr. Charles Goelitz has returned to his home here.

A number of local deaf sent valentines to little Anna Weidner, who is a pupil at the Mt. Airy School. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Weidner, of Birdsboro.

Miss Elizabeth Ahrens spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Weidner.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Tobias entertained Mr. Daniel Brossman, of Stevens, recently.

Mrs. Emma Overdorf visited relatives in Port Clinton.

AN OPEN LETTER

380 E. 27TH N., PORTLAND, ORE.
DEAR EDITOR HODGSON:—Will you kindly print in your paper the following:

Some time ago the Seattle correspondent of the JOURNAL, in commenting on Portland's failure to land the next convention of the N. F. S. D. for 1925, graciously suggested that what Portland needed was a man of the type of A. W. Wright, and then proceeded in generous terms to compare his "oratory" with that of the great W. J. Bryan (the poor man's eloquence never brought him into the coveted "White House").

Oh, well, thank you, dear wise adviser! Yes, we appreciate your solicitude about our deplorable welfare, but we fear we must disappoint you, for there are enough live wires here to render it unnecessary to shanghai and import the "sorely needed leader."

However, it is our opinion that it was unfair for the Seattle correspondent to assume that the failure of getting the frat convention for the 1925 Portland exposition was due to the lack of spellbinding on the part of our delegate to the Atlanta convention, when the question of expense incidental to the long trip to Portland was the one real reason for the defeat of our hopes, despite the delegate's best efforts. All these fair minded delegates to Atlanta know that. Enuf sed.

DENVER.

The Fancy Dress Ball held under auspices of Denver Division, No. 64, on February 18th, was a success. A large crowd turned up, most of them in costume. Mrs. Lessley won first prize for the ladies as the best costumed, while H. E. Grace in his old Uncle Sam suit took first for the gents. The most comic were Mrs. Grace as a bunny, and Ray Alford as a Chink. The children's prizes were carried off by Elda and Harry Fisher.

J. Leon and Mrs. Harvat were in charge of the arrangements and carried out everything to perfection.

Clarence P. Jones has moved to Pueblo. He has been in ill health for some time, and made the change on his doctor's advice to go to a lower altitude. It is to be hoped the change will benefit him.

E. W. Simpson is one of the prosperous farmers of Colorado, he having a large ranch in Baca County. He has found the help problem a hard one, and is looking for a man and wife to help on the place. John Opfer also has a ranch in Baca County. This County has no railroad, but hopes to have one before long. Both of the above gentlemen operate dry farms. This does not mean that they grow crops without water, but that they depend on the rainfall, which rarely exceeds 16 inches per year, and they have to use "dry farming methods" to conserve the moisture.

Roy Brooks, of Ft. Collins, was a Denver visitor recently and attended the Frat meeting of February 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Metcalfe have increased their family by a baby girl, born some time in January. Girls seem to be the fad nowadays. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tuskey announce the birth of a daughter on January 28th.

Mr. Gordon, who has been in Denver for about a year, has de-camped for parts unknown, because of lack of employment in Denver.

Mr. A. L. Brown, a teacher in the School for the Deaf, will give a lecture on March 18th, at T. M. A. Hall. This is the first time Mr. Brown will have been seen in action in Denver.

The Liberty Club will hold a bazaar some time in the spring. Date and particulars later.

J. H. Tuskey, once of Ft. Morgan, now of Ft. Collins, was in Denver recently. Mr. Tuskey is trying to get on a farm for the coming year.

News is scarce at this date, but dates ahead are: March 18th, Lecture, April 15th, Barnyard Banquet, by Frats.

DENVERITES.

The earth's atmosphere contains at least four million billions of tons of nitrogen (4,000,000,000,000) directly accessible. The quantity in the air over one square kilometre of land is sufficient to enrich the earth of the whole world for twenty years at the present rate of consumption.

Deaf-Mutes' Journal

NEW YORK, MARCH 9, 1922.

EDWIN A. HODGSON, Editor.

THE DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL (published by the New York Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, at 163d Street and Ft. Washington Avenue, is issued every Thursday; it is the best paper for deaf-mutes published. It contains the latest news and correspondence; the best writers contribute to it.

TERMS.

One Copy, one year, - $2.00
To Canada and Foreign Countries, - 2.50

CONTRIBUTIONS.

All contributions must be accompanied with the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publications, but as a guarantee of good faith. Correspondents are alone responsible for views and opinions expressed in their communications.

Contributions, subscriptions and business letters to be sent to the
DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL,
Station M, New York City.

"He's true to God who's true to man:
Wherever wrong is done
To the humblest and the weakest
Neath the all-beholding sun,
That wrong is also done to us,
And they are also most base,
Whose love of right is for themselves,
And not for all the race."

Notice concerning the whereabouts of individuals will be charged at the rate of ten cents a line.

Specimen copies sent to any address on receipt of five cents.

We would call attention to the appeal for help from the School for the Deaf at Hangchow, China, which is being bulletined each week with the names of those who contribute and the amounts contributed.

Up to date nearly sixty dollars has been subscribed. We would like to obtain an even hundred dollars as expressing the enlightened interest of the deaf of the United States in the effort of a Chinese deaf-mute to bring the blessings and benefits of education to the children of his own class.

Tse Tien Fu is a graduate of the School for the Deaf at Chefoo, which has been conducted by Mrs. Mills (an American lady) for over thirty years.

He graduated in June, 1913, and in February, 1914, he opened a private school at Hangchow and has carried on the work for eight years. Since its establishment forty-three deaf-mutes have been educated, and are now at their several homes engaged in useful occupations and living enlightened and happy lives. The school at present has fifteen pupils. Last April a department to give instruction in carpet making was started, and six of the pupils have made fine progress along this line which is calculated to develop their artistic capabilities.

In China Mr. Tse Tien Fu is a pioneer in the instruction of the deaf, just as Laurent Clerc and his deaf colleagues in the United States were pioneers one hundred years ago. Their course was not so hard, because the State gave financial aid. However the early deaf teachers of the deaf did noble work and in a few instances were honored with memorials in one form or another. Who can say what history will record concerning Tse Tien Fu, the Chinese deaf founder of the School for the Deaf at Hangchow. Who can vision the great results that are possible to future generations of the deaf of China through its spreading influences. All honor to Mrs. S. T. Mills who planted the seed from which it sprang.

Here is a Chinese deaf man who will understand the deaf and their handicap of deafness as only deaf people can. He is trying to educate a few of the many thousands of neglected deaf-mutes of China. His road is far from smooth. He has done great work during the eight years of his school's existence. He asks his deaf brethren of this prosperous country to contribute a mite from their abundance to help educate one more pupil in his school.

Readers of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, will you contribute a little so that we can send at least $100 to Tse Tien Fu? If forty of you send one dollar each, the fund will be complete and the money with the printed list of contributions will be at once forwarded to Hangchow.

It is only necessary to write "For the Chinese School," with your name and the amount, and address the letter to "The Deaf-Mutes Journal, P.O. Station M, New York City."

MRS. ARGO DEAD.

As we go to press comes the sad news of the death of Mrs. Argo, Superintendent of the Colorado Institution. Her death occurred on Monday, March 6th. She succeeded her husband, Dr. W. K. Argo, upon his death about a year ago. Mrs. Argo was an educator of the deaf in its real sense, besides being an efficient executive and a splendid manager in materialistic affairs.

Resolutions of Respect

WHEREAS, God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst our co-worker, Miss Sibelle DeForest King; now therefore, be it Resolved:—

First, That we, the teachers and officers of the North Carolina School for the Deaf, desire to express our sorrow at the death of Miss King;

Second, That the school has lost a faithful and successful teacher;

Third, That we extend to her sister, Miss Anne King, our heartfelt sympathy in her great bereavement, with the hope that she may find help and comfort in her hour of sorrow;

Fourth, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Teachers' Association of the North Carolina School for the Deaf, a copy be sent to Miss Anne King, to the Deaf Carolinian and the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL for publication.

AKRON, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ewing entertained Mr. and Mrs. H. Stewart at dinner Sunday. Mr. Ewing and Mr. Stewart were old school friends at the school for the deaf at Danville, Ky., years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wickline attended the St. Valentine Social at Canton, O., on Saturday evening, February 11th. While there they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Monnin at their home.

Lemen Gibson, an aged citizen, was confined to his home with lumbago several days the past week.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leopard at St. Louis, Missouri, February 4th. It is reported they will move back to Akron, O., March 15th. Mr. and Mrs. John Leopard are correspondingly happy grandparents.

Mrs. John Leopard has returned home after a visit with her husband, who is employed as tailor in Youngstown, O.

Mrs. Edward Erickson, who has been sick for the past week, is reported as improved.

Lemen Gibson celebrated his natal anniversary Wednesday, February 8th. He is 78 years old, and is almost hearty.

The friends of Mrs. Albert Simpson are delighted to learn of her progress since coming home from a local hospital.

Friends of Peter Wise, of Lodi, who spent the week end recently in Akron, were surprised to learn that he had lost his right eye. He accidentally injured the eye in mixing lime. Cleveland eye specialist removed it successfully and adjusted a false one.

Herman Kohn has returned to Washington, D. C., where he has a position as tinner.

On Wednesday, February 15th, the Silent Athletic Club at Goodyear Hall was favored with a visit from W. N. Toomey and Louis Poshusta, of Canton.

Cris Abbott, of Charleston, W. Va., is in this city seeking employment. He is only 18 years old, but has a fine physique.

George Scott, of Cleveland, was here on business several days the past week.

Your correspondent desires to thank many deaf friends, who visited him at home during his recent illness. They also sent fruits. Their kindness shall always remain with him as a pleasant remembrance.

CHICAGO.

A peddler there was who was after dough,
He peddled the alphabet cards, you know
(Which never did you nor I.)
He meddled and peddled with right good will,
And it might have been he would peddle still,
But Purdum pounced on him, fit to kill,
Even as you and I.

John E. Purdum, president and grand mogul of the Pas-a-Pas Club, as well as president and miracle man of that local Nad branch (the C. A. D.) has received his first national honor.

Purdum is National Chief of the Nad Impostor Bureau.

Impostors—and real deaf card peddlers—are in for a run, now. During the war this practice fell into disuse largely, following an intensive campaign by the Impostor Bureau. With the return of "hard times," the good old graft reappeared.

Since Impostor Bureau was introduced—just after the Nad convention of 1910—it has secured the passage of strict anti-impostor laws in twelve states and has been about the most conspicuous fighting force in deafdom.

President Dr. Cloud seems to think Purdum can cope with the present tendency of idle deaf to peddle alphabet cards. If anyone can, it is Purdum. But it means work—long, hard work.

Meanwhile Chicago is proud of the latest addition to its long list of distinguished citizens—distinguished nationally as well as at home. For the man who is a hero both in his own balliwick and abroad, is a rara avis.

Knockers may say the Pas-a-Pas club habitually secures newspaper applause of its masquerades by awarding first prize to the JOURNAL correspondent. It did last year. And it did this year. Since it is human nature to praise those who are good to one, individually, I did not care to trust to my own judgment as to the success of the annual Pas "all nations" masquerade, February 25th, instead seeking the opinion of several non-prize winners. Since all agreed it was "ripping," "clever," "delightful," "swell," (watch Patriarch Pach jump at this adjective), the JOURNAL verdict must also be ripping, clever, delightful, swell.

I. Wallace, G. Brasher and Miss Fulton, the committee in charge, decreed it "for members only," so, aside from a few relatives, members only invaded the premises—a crowd that did not prove too crowded. Ideal. Plenty of room to roam around in, and ample opportunity to attract the judges' eyes. "Prof." Roberts, J. Cohen, and Mrs. Watson announced the following winners, after due and mature deliberation:

Exact portrayal of nationalities—J. F. Meagher, Highland Bagpiper, Caroline Hyman (aged 9) Japanese Geisha.

Prettiest Costumes—Mrs. Otto Mallman, German peasant; Mrs. W. Borinstein, Spanish senora.

Funniest costumes—Joyous Jew, Fred Kauffman; Old Crane with child, C. Martin.

Oddest characters—Old Rubes, the old Brashars—aged 79 and 84. (This is probably a record for prize winning at deaf masquades, and possesses real news value.)

Best characterizations—W. Borinstein, tramp; Mrs. L. MacKay, Aunt Jemima.

That same evening the bondholders of the Sac held a well-attended "Indoor Picnic," which netted quite a profit. Mrs. Joe Miller managed it. When the Millers manage anything, pleasure and profit are generally assured. There's a knack in managing successfully. The Millers have it. The "picnic" proved to be largely a matter of taking chances for prizes. The big chance of the evening was for a $50 A. C. bond, a quarter per chance. Alfred Liebenstein won. Miss Alice Donahue won the next best bargain—a large center-table dolly.

Houdini turned up at the Pas-a-Pas clubrooms on the 24th—the Society of American Magicians, of which he is a member, renting their quarters one Friday evening every month. He walked like a drunken invalid, having just released himself from three straps and a strait jacket while hanging by the heels from the sixth floor of the Hearst building. On reaching ground, he was blind for several minutes from the rush of blood to the head while undergoing his struggles to free himself, and the "hangover" of this ordeal lasted for over an hour. Similar to the aftermath of a clean knockout in the prize ring.

Houdini explained his famous floating lady trick to the magicians assembled there, in the midst of which he stopped to order Purdum out of the room—deeming him too sharp a lip reader and too clever a cuss not to master the technique of this most sacred of secret tricks.

Purdum was later given the platform and (orally) expounded several ideas of his for the betterment of the body of magicians assembled, which were applauded. Purdum was offered the post of business manager for the local chapter. He declined, having all the side lines he can do already.

Nine-tenths of the leaders of the Sac are either Irish or Hebrews—these two volatile, energetic races seem to mix admirably, judging from results obtained—so it is natural that St. Patrick's night day should always be an occasion of especial jollification at the Sac. The day falling on Friday this year, a special "Vaudeville and entertainment" program has been listed for Friday, in addition to the customary Saturday social following.

The last Saturday in each month is always reserved for the literary committee at the Pas, and March 25th, it takes the form of a "mock trial" before Judge Dougherty's so-called court. E. W. Craig is accused of having stolen a nickel from the cup of a blind man (C. C. Codman) at the Pas masquerade, while the blind man was gazing at the foundations of some "la belle femme." Purdum and Meagher serve as opposing attorneys, while the list of witnesses include some of the brightest—as well as well as a few of the stupidest—minds in Pas circles. The last local mock trial—held by the Sac bunch at All Angels' four years ago—is remembered as one of the funniest burlesques ever, so this one should prove well worth attending.

When Col. Oscar C. Smith, head of our state school, suffered a sudden relapse from Hun gas (relic of his foreign war record) while here to direct the Nad branch last January, the branch gave Miss Grace Hasenstab $10 to buy flowers for the Colonel. When Col. Smith was sufficiently recovered to realize what was going on in the world, he learned of the flowers and found that $6 of the sum remained unspent; whereupon he ordered Miss Hasenstab to buy no more flowers, instead diverting the $6 to buy Hershey bars for the children.

Paul Martin is foreman of the night shift of a Los Angeles printery specializing in bank checks. Works from 5 to 1:30, and enjoys plenty of sunshine. The Martins were asked to let one of the film companies use their baby in a play. Their Boston bulldog got six puppies, three of which were sold to movie people at $40 each. Mabel Normand was going to buy one, but the Taylor murder intervened and spoiled the sale.

Sidney Howard, the venerable Chicagoan long conducting this column, has located in the Santa Clara valley, where he lets the warm summer sunbake his weary skin while old friends shiver here in wintry blizzards. Address is Box 24, San Martin, Cal. "The JOURNAL and Silent Worker are my best friends, relieving the tedious loneliness that is the sole drawback to this beautiful Garden of Eden," he writes.

William O'Neil is back after attending the funeral of his mother in Wisconsin.

After a mad, merry month here, Mrs. Frank B. Cope went back to LaPorte, Indiana, just after Lent put a damper on silent gaieties.

Miss Gwendolyn Caswell—petite, pretty, pleasant, and possessor of a complexion the angels in heaven might envy—has been compelled to discontinue her studies at the state school and help support the family, her father having been out of work for some time. Miss Caswell had intended to enter Gallaudet anon, so this effect of the industrial depression is doubly to be regretted.

Charles Dunn underwent his third operation, supposedly for appendicitis, at Wesley Hospital, on the 25th.

Martha LaMotte feels she is quite a grown-up young lady, since serving as bridesmaid at her cousin's wedding. Aint it wonderful how fast those little children grow up?

Ladislav Cherry is starring on the wrestling team of Gallaudet College, competing at 150 pounds—a freak poundage, the Capitol City being accustomed to such departures.

Two Sac lads—Lester Hagemeier, 145, and Walter Hodgson, 158, were entered in the Central A. U. wrestling championships last week, but printed results fail to list either man. This is the last big meet under the good old weights, the amateurs having revised the classification, lessening the discrepancy between the lighter classes and increasing that between the heavier divisions. Old weights were: 108, 115, 125, 135, 145, 158, 175, and heavy; new weights: 112, 118, 126, 135, 147, 160, 175, and heavy.

Dates ahead: March 11—Bunco, Pas, 17—Annual St. Patrick's vaudeville and "Mick" night, 18—Socials at both Sac and Pas, 25—Mock Trial, Pas, April 15—"S. A. T." night, Pas.

FANWOOD.

The following is taken from the Deaf Carolinian. Miss Sibelle de F. King was formerly a valued teacher of this Institution:

MISS KING DIES IN ASHEVILLE HOSPITAL

For the third time this year death has entered our school, this time taking one of our teachers, Miss Sibelle de F. King, who passed away in an Asheville hospital Wednesday morning of this week. The news of her death cast a shadow of gloom over the entire school as well as the town of Morganton, for she was universally popular and liked by all who knew her.

Miss King went to Asheville Friday, the seventeenth, to have her tonsils removed. The operation, which was apparently successful, was done Saturday morning and her friends here were hopeful of her early recovery, but on account of a weak heart she was unable to overcome the shock. It was not until Monday night that news came telling of her serious condition, and from that time until her death little hope was entertained for her recovery. One of her most intimate friends, Mrs. B. L. Gaither, of Morganton, was at her bedside all day Tuesday, and Miss Thomason, our Principal, was with her when the end came Wednesday morning about eleven o'clock. Mr. Goodwin was on his way to Asheville to offer his assistance when he received the news of her death. The only surviving sister, Miss Anne King, who is an instructor in the New York Institution for the Deaf, did not reach Asheville until a few hours after her sister had passed away. She left the same afternoon, accompanying the remains to their old home in St. John, N. B., where the interment will take place.

Miss King and her sister were the only remaining members of a family who for many years were prominent in governmental affairs in Canada. She was one of the first graduates of Northampton Normal Training School and was recognized as one among the most successful and best known teachers in the profession. Her first work as a teacher was in the McKay Institute, Montreal, Canada, from which place she came to Morganton, where she taught for several years, going from here to Mt. Airy and New York and then returning to this school last year.

On account of ill health Miss King retired from the profession for about two years prior to taking up her work in this school the second time. During this time she and her sister made their home in Morganton, where they had many friends who join with their friends at the school in extending their deepest sympathy to the lonely sister who is left to mourn her loss.

The appended editorial is from the same paper:

A GOOD TEACHER GONE.

"Good teachers are born," says Dr. Frank Crane. "When a boy finds one, the kind God makes, the kind that inoculates the pupil with the love of learning, he has found a pearl of great price." Such a teacher was Miss King. Her success in the school room was due to her love for the work. She was not the kind of teacher who is just holding her job, but one who exerted a far-reaching influence for good over the young lives placed under her training. She always recognized her obligation and never failed to measure up to it. Teachers of Miss King's type are not numerous, and when one passes out the loss is felt not alone in the school in which she was teaching but throughout the profession. No higher tribute can be paid to her than to say that she was a good teacher.

On March 2d, the 5th Oral Class, taught by Miss Katie Currier, gave its program before the members of the Fanwood Literary Association, in the Chapel. Every number on the program was well rendered. Cadet George Lynch acted just the same as Mr. Douglas Fairbanks, the movie star, and George showed that he was somewhat an expert fencer.

Program in full is appended:—

Reading—"Marcus Innocent." By Ben Seftle.
Farce—"He laughs Best, who Laughs Last." By Irving Epstein, George Lynch and Natalie Cerniglia.

Act III—A Soldier laughs at D'Artagnan's clothes.

Act IV—D'Artagnan meets the three Musketeers.

Act V—Louis XIII gives a diamond buckle to Queen, and then Buckingham comes to Queen and she gives him the buckle.

Act VI—Louis XIII comes to Queen and tells her to wear the buckle to-morrow night.

Act VII—D'Artagnan helps Queen to go to Buckingham and get the buckle.

Act VIII—D'Artagnan gives the buckle to Queen and she thanks him.

Act IX—The Ball.

Cadet Lieutenant Emil Mulfeldt, Cadets Harold Yager, and Nathan Morrell, enjoyed shoveling the snow from the main road last week. They wish for more snow storms.

The Fanwood tossers will play a game of basket-ball against the American School for the Deaf (Hartford) on March 25th.

Some friends of Cadet Lieutenant Abraham Liehtblau sent him many birthday cards for his 20th birthday, on March 3d.

Cadet Rudolph Behrens has been a member of teams in the Senior Basket ball Tournament for about five years. He never won a medal. His team is now in the first place, and he hopes that he will win a medal in the present tournament.

On February 25th, Cadet Rudolph Behrens' birthday occurred, and he invited his friends to attend a birthday party, which took place at his home. The guests present were as follows: Cadets Sam Zadra, Philip Brickman, Edmund Hicks and William Nixon. They had a most enjoyable time. After the party, they saw an owl perched on the branch of a tree near Rudolph's home.

The Mitchell team lost to the Emil Five, in a basket basket ball game, with the score of 22 to 10, on March 1st.

A hot basket ball game between the Benny and the Emil teams was held on March 3d. The latter team won by the close score of 19 to 16.

On February 27th, the Bennys triumphed over the Casper team by the overwhelming score of 22 to 4.

Our Band of Deaf Musicians will play at DeLameter-Erission Commemoration on March 9th, the 60th Anniversary of the battle between the Monitor and Merrimac.

PHILADELPHIA.

A class initiation will be held by Philadelphia Division No. 30, N. F. S. D., at its next regular meeting in April, and hereafter class initiations will be held twice each year, in the months of April and October.

Despite of most unfavorable weather on Ash Wednesday, seventeen persons attended the service in the evening at All Souls' Church for the Deaf. After this service, the Lenten service will be held every Thursday evening before the meeting of the Clerc Literary Association. Everybody is invited to attend these services. And remember that the offerings will be for the Coal Fund to keep the Church and Parish House warm and comfortable during next winter (1922-23).

That good, epic, inspiring, instructive and interesting little leaflet of St. Andrew's Silent Mission of Boston, Mass., is truly welcome and appreciated. The Rev. Mr. Hefflon is to be congratulated for the fine spirit he displays in the Mission and its people. May time bring him and his followers all the blessings wished for.

The floral offering in All Souls' Church last Sunday, February 25th, was in memory of Mrs. Hannah E. Houston, beloved wife of Mr. Washington Houston, who died on the same date in 1920. The husband and daughter still survive her. After the service the flowers were placed on her grave by the devoted husband.

Mr. Adolph Yerkes possesses an interesting and beautiful silver vase, 18 inches high. It was a testimonial gift to his father, John Yerkes, in 1858, when he was leader of a company of German musicians.

Miss May Stemple has been ill with a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Townley H. Mondean's son, Frank, who is a Marine on the U. S. S. Asheville, attended the entertainment at All Souls' on February 22d, in which his father took part.

Mrs. W. E. Dorworth's father, of York, Pa., was visiting here over the Washington's Birthday holiday, and brought his young deaf son and daughter down from the Mt. Airy School to the entertainment at All Souls'.

The local Frats' St. Patrick's Day social will be held at the Grand Fraternity building on March 18th, instead of the 17th. It will be in charge of Mr. William E. Rothmund, Chairman of the Social Committee.

Theodore Natter looms up here once in a while and was last seen a week ago. He is valet for a salesman and thus does quite a bit of traveling.

Mr. George T. Sanders passed the 55th milestone on life's highway on the 5th of March. He and Mrs. Sanders and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Knight planned to spend the day in New York to enjoy a family reunion.

Margaret Sheick, hearing sister of Mrs. Kate Hoopes, is a patient at the University Hospital at present. She is well known to the deaf of Lancaster.

Cards announce the marriage of Miss Mary Horton, daughter of Mrs. Eunice Campbell and the late Charles Campbell, to Mr. James Ellsworth Price, at Watkins, N. Y., on February 28th. Mrs. Campbell formerly lived in Philadelphia and her daughter was born here. Those who remember Mary wish her a happy married life, plus health and wealth. She is conversant with the sign-language.

Mr. Harry E. Stevens was leading man at the current events talk of the Clerc Literary Association on March 2d.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Honsermyer are still staying with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reider, in the city. Mr. Honsermyer's nervous system is in such a bad condition that he needs constant treatment, and even then recovery will be slow, doctors say.

The fancy costume wardrobe of the Ladies' Aid Society of All Souls' Church has been augmented by two army coats, a pair of white duck trousers, army breeches, two pairs of leggings and a white outing hat, for use at entertainments. They were all presented to the Society by Mr. James L. Patterson. Thoughtful!

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Campbell have leased their house on South Bousall Street for a year.

Independence Hall Branch of the National Association of the Deaf, organized on September 14th, 1921, held its adjourned meeting last week (February 24th) at the Hotel Adelphi, Philadelphia, to perfect the organization which was effected with good foundation and with much enthusiasm displayed by the members.

It elected Mr. Harry E. Stevens, President; Mr. Joseph S. Rodgers, Vice-President; Mr. Arthur Fowler, Secretary; and Miss May Stemple, Treasurer. Members of the Executive Board are Messrs. Warren M. Smaltz, J. Jennings and William H. Klein.

The Branch started with fifty nine members, and it will meet again sometime this month to launch into greater activities, to uphold the aim, usefulness and prestige of the National Association. Others who have not yet joined are invited to attend the next meeting of the Branch, and if agreeable, hand in one dollar for initiation fee. It is hoped that every one who sees the above notice will be broadminded and liberal enough to offer their helping hand to the Branch to make it a useful medium for the succor of the Deaf in general. By doing this, they will some day find themselves more active and enthusiastic members than they ever dreamt of before. It will inspire others to follow suit and make the organization, THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF THE DEAF, a powerful one to protect the Deaf in general, to look after their interest and welfare, to assist and further in their fight against prejudice and discrimination generally, put up by the hearing public, and to wipe from the statute books of the land such unjust laws affecting the Deaf, and lastly help your fellow men and women in a most Christian spirit.

If the above ideas just meet your views from all angles, join the N. A. D. NOW and help on the great work the latter is now doing. Philadelphia has been too long already without an organization to look to the general welfare of all the Deaf. This has been due in great measure to a few wilful and bigoted individuals who have consistently fought against the best things in the world of the Deaf. For example, at the recent meeting of the Alumni Association of the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Mr. R. Middleton Riegler felt himself called upon to belittle the N. A. D. He is quoted as saying that every member of the N. A. D. is by every virtue of that membership disloyal to his alma mater. It may be pertinent to remark here that Mr. Ziegler is also the same person who has steadily refused to associate himself with the N. F. S. D., and doesn't even have any visible connections with any religious body. Persons of that might stamp as well remain outside the N. A. D. membership, and those who follow Mr. Ziegler's example are perhaps more valuable to the Association by remaining outside.

The next stated convention of the Association will be held in the summer of 1923, in the great and beautiful and hospitable city of Atlanta, Georgia.

Charles Dillingham has another great theatrical triumph to his credit in the success which has greeted his presentation at the Hippodrome of Jack Dempsey, the world's champion, who on Monday began the second week of his limited engagement as the star of "Get Together." The engagement of the champion at the big playhouse again has demonstrated the universality of his clientele, and quite aside from those interested in sports, who have come to the Hippodrome to see Dempsey in his first theatrical engagement and in his only public appearances since his bout with Carpenter in Jersey City on July 2d, the Hippodrome has been visited by a greater number of society folk than at any previous time during the current season, the nightly performances consisting of audiences which might well have been compiled from a combination of the social register and who's who in America.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter postal card is sufficient. We will do the best.

XAVIER E. S. NOTES.

"Amateur Vandeville" was the vehicle commandeered by the Xavier Ephpheta Society on Washington's birthday evening. Piloted by a young lady chauffeur, Miss Mae Anstra, the machine chugged along in merry mood until Miss Mae ran into the "flu." For a day she was under wraps, sampling the antidotes and prescriptions ordered by an aspiring M. D. But Miss Anstra's middle name is "Game." Another day of convalescence, and she was again at the wheel, with four hundred and more of the silent elect and friends attending the performance in Xavier College Theatre.

The bright particular star on the other side of the footlights was James F. Loneragan. Resurrecting and putting together a number of bits made famous in the days of Fox, Denier, Maffitt and lesser lights in the pantomime world, Jimmy evolved therefrom a pot-pourri of laugh producing stunts that tickled the audience for a half hour. Assisting him were William Downey as pantaloon, Joseph Graham, Cop; Joseph Dennen, Parson; Julius Kieckers, Sally Green.

A squad of St. Joseph's Institute Cadets were accorded the opening place. After giving a finely executed exhibition of Military evolutions, Col. Tully's boys, as an added feature, staged a calla the exhibition that brought down the house.

Robert Bagy and Frank Trossinger amused with a Charlie Chaplin act.

Feats of magic by Joseph Dennen and his understudy Joseph Gabriel, were declared to be equal to some of the Big Circit Acts. The hat trick proved particularly effective.

An Irish Dance won plaudits for the Misses Dorothy O'Keefe, Louise Richardella, Anna Hanlon, Tessie Joachim, and Margaret Sexton. A Scotch Dance followed, in which the last three named ladies evinced versatility.

As Queen of the Fairies, Miss Anna Menton was the picture of grace and queenliness, and was ably assisted by the Misses Rose Quinn, Dorothy O'Keefe, Louise Richardella, Anna Hanlon, Teresa Jardine and Margaret Sexton.

The Yager-Krassner-Heintz Trio, representing the Fanwood boys at St. Rose Sunday School, closed the performance with an amusing adaptation of Chaplin's scenic picture "The Rink." They sent the audience home laughing!

Mrs. Grace Ploud, a member of the X. E. S., and deaf, surprised everybody with her accomplishments, as a piano player. She and Miss Kathleen Mullally alternated during intermission in musical selections. The audience were on the qui vive as to the identity of the "Lady at the Piano."

The X. E. S. pastor, Reverend Father Dalton, S. J., not only substituted in the absence of a printed program, but did enough work during the evening to put in a bill for double time. Not once did his smile vanish, and he was pleased to tide over a resting spell to Mr. Anson T. Colt, a zealous friend of the deaf.

Many of the Fathers of the College occupied a point of vantage from which they could enjoy the performance, and Rev. Father Cassey, S. J., rector of the College, joined heartily in applauding the efforts of the X. E. S. Thespians.

President Cosgrove, S. J. Fogarty, Paul Murtagh, the Mattes Bros. looked after the box office and the proper conduct of affairs up front, and everybody reported they knew what they were about.

ALPHABET A. C. NEWS

Alphabet A. C., 25 Stuyvesant, 24 The Alphabet basketball team took to hostilities on Saturday night, February 25th, at the court of the Stuyvesant Neighborhood House. For a time in the early part of the first half the Stuyvesant team had a lead over us of 15 to 7, but as the first half was over the score showed the Alphabets in the lead with 17 to 15, and, oh boy, the second half was something worth talking of—lightning like our boys were moving around the court and such fast work was surely worthy of the victory, which finally decorated the score board, 26 to 24.

The writer was unable to obtain the line-up of Alphabets: Rubin, L. G.; Kruger, R. G.; Burger, C.; Criswell, L. F.; Stecker, R. F.; and Dembo, who was substituted by Burger in the second half.

The twinkle, twinkle, little stars, of the evening were Stecker and Kruger, who by their excellent play had much to do with the victory.

The Stuyvesant team, it will be noticed is a picked team, comprising the stars from the various clubs in the Stuyvesant Neighborhood House. So we've heard. A return game has been asked.

The Alphabet Athletic Club (of Deaf-Mutes) is now in its 13th year of athletics and the only one active in New York for the past few years. In all this time it has been their sole purpose to aid our fellow deaf physically and morally, and thereby make of him a man of good health and spirit.

The officers of the Alphabet A. C. for the year 1922 are: Hyman Criswell, President; David Polinsky, Vice-President; Jack M. Ebin, Secretary; Morris Rubin, Treasurer; Leo Kramer and Benny Dembo, Sergeants-at-Arms.

NOTE—Please bear in mind our next affair, Saturday evening, March 11th—come along and spend the evening with us. The Committee will see to it that everything is as planned.

H. A. D. NOTES

Rabbi A. J. Amateau spoke quite interestingly on "misconceptions about the Deaf," at the Friday evening services on March 3d. This Friday, the 10th, the speaker will be Dr. Thos. F. Fox. Subject: "Little Things." All welcome.

The Annual meeting and Installation of officers of the H. A. D., takes place this Sunday afternoon, March 12th, at 2:30 P. M.

Over $200 has already been contributed by the Jewish deaf towards the Jewish Relief Campaign now in progress. Those who wish to contribute for this worthy cause may remit direct to "The Jewish Deaf," 40 West 114 St., New York. Thank you.

Mrs. Nancy Lockwood Witmeyer, of Cos Cob, Ct., accompanied her son who motored to New York February 4th. Mrs. Witmeyer enjoyed meeting friends at the Frats' Grand Ball February 4th, and the Basket Ball and Dance in Jersey City, February 11th. She was a guest of Mrs. C. Thompson, and also of her schoolmate and friend, Mrs. Frank Roberts, in Bayshore, L. I. After five days she visited her niece, Mrs. Belle Lockwood Earnst, in Jersey City, a week. Mr. and Mrs. Earnst celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage February 18th, though they were wedded on Valentine Day. They had a Valentine party and received beautiful, useful presents. They have a two-year-old very bright son. Mrs. Witmeyer was at the Owls' Entertainment, and has returned home after an eighteen-day trip, much benefitted by the change.

Charles Schatzkin has returned to New York after a transcontinental trip that occupied over a month. He left New York on the 1st of February, stopping over in Chicago for a few days, visiting the Silent Athletic Club, taking in the Masquerade Ball, and sight-seeing in general. In California, he met Mr. and Mrs. Le Clercq in San Francisco, and Mr. Farnham and Miss Lavonde in Los Angeles. They all long to get to New York again. During the trip he visited the Grand Canyon, spent eight days in Los Angeles with trips to Pasadena, Mt. Lowe, Hollywood, etc., and on the return went to San Diego, Tia Juana, Mexico, and El Paso. He met William Japes, of Detroit, while in California.

February 25th, a fine birthday party was tended Miss Pauline Martini, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kaban in Brooklyn. Many pretty presents were showered upon Miss Martini by her many silent friends.

Mrs. Kaban prepared a swell feast for all, which was enjoyed by all, after which there were dancing and games. Then Mr. Samuel Gompers, who is a cigar maker, passed around his famous "smokes" to the guests, who indulged in worship at the altar of Lady Nicotine. All who attended said they enjoyed the party immensely. Among those present were the Misses Bessie Cullen, Nellie McGarvey, Mrs. Kaban and Mrs. Sanfilippo, the Messrs. Henry Koster, "Dick" Birmingham, Samuel Gompers, "Steve" Kaban and Joe Sanfilippo.

The grand opening of the Silent Athletic Club's new headquarters was filled to its capacity, it was impossible to close the doors to visitors at eight P. M., as scheduled, as more visitors were coming at that hour and the officials decided to keep open until eleven P. M., where dancing and amusements were the attraction. The club room itself was the talk of the thing and those who failed to come will hear about it from those who were there.

Brooklyn Div. No. 23 has decided to lease the rooms for their monthly meeting—their first was held there, March 4th. Monthly entertainments will be given by the Silent A. C. Watch advertisements in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.

Charles Amianer, after graduating from Fanwood about twenty-five years ago, went to Philadelphia to reside. After twenty-two years in the Quaker City he is back in New York, and is employed as a coat operator. He is married and has eight children—four boys and four girls—ranging in age from three to eighteen years.

Dr. Fox will give a reading of "Riehellén," on Saturday, March 18th, 1922, 8:15 P. M., in St. Ann's Church for the Deaf. Admission, twenty-five cents.

Thomas F. Martin, known as "Silent Martin," is the happy father of a daughter, born March 3d. Mrs. Martin and child are doing well.

FOR SALE:—A Pool and Billiard Table with balls and cues in splendid condition. Will be sold cheap. Can be seen any time at the home of Anna Sweyd, 962 Whitlock Avenue, Bronx. Phone, 0604 Intervale.

Mr. William Japes, of Detroit, is finishing the last few days of his vacation in New York. It began three months ago and took him to California, Mexico, and a lot of intervening places.

OREGON—WASHINGTON.

A few friends surprised Mrs. Mabel Scanlan Linde Sunday, February 18th, in celebration of her 19th birthday. The main topic of C. H. Linde that day was this JOURNAL correspondent, and ways and means of banishing him from the vicinity on account of his insidious activity in chronicling the news in the deaf-mute world and exposing the follies of some.

Theo. C. Mueller has been trying to locate a place of his own, from five acres up to 5,000,000, for a little home of his own. Wanderlust still grips him and he is restless, but he has sense enough to think of settling down and raising kids—mostly angoras—to clear the bush on the place that is to be the home nest.

Selma Hagen was sent home to her parents in Canby, from her work in Meier and Frank's, to recuperate from a bad cold.

Irene Dixon has recovered from a bad cold, and is going home to Albany soon for a month's vacation.

Geo. W. Kreidt has been working nights in the E. and W. lumber yard.

Carl James has been looking for work in Portland. It is like looking for a needle in a stack of chaff. Preston Walters has recovered from the accident at the cooperage, where he was crushed under a log. He now thinks automatic machinery will lose him his job. So he is thinking of going to California to embark into the poultry business. He thinks herding turkeys after grasshoppers in grain land work enough and profitable too.

The Portland Mutes who invested in the Lauder and Shane Device Manufacturing Company, have the faith that moves mountains, 30, 40 and 60 per cent are just right. Know any one outside the great trusts or combinations that earn that much?

The Blue Bird Club met in the Central Library Monday to reorganize. Details are not decided on. A funny incident is the meeting of the Club on the upper floor, while the reporter for this JOURNAL was delving into the mysteries of agriculture in the reference room.

J. B. George is working but one day in the week. He is a master barber, too.

Dana Acuff, Frank Thayer, and other Portland idle deaf, are thinking about going north to the land of fascination and friendliness, Alaska, to work in the salmon canneries.

T. C. Mueller proudly showed his lady companion his Manning Folding umbrella, which can be folded for packing in a small suitcase. A gale blew the demonstration up. T. C. Mueller let the lady stumble on the wet street, and the umbrella was taken to the hospital, and the golden variety of a rubber coat bought. When he was a pupil in the Ohio School for the Deaf, he went to a nearby church one Sunday to attend Easter services. He slipped on the ice, caught at his girl companion and dragged her down! Later he went a-sleighing with a widow, the sleigh overturned, and he promptly took the widow over into the ditch. The calling-down on both occasions was—!

Mrs. Ashley C. (E. E. J.) Reeves is now better. The dentist cured the abscess in her cheek that was thought to be neuralgia.

Grover Evans is out of work in Boise, Idaho, but his father may send him with a train load of cattle to St. Louis.

Mr. Burke, formerly of Spokane, Wash., was working at his trade of cobbler in Boise, but is now out of work.

Hugo Holcombe may leave the navy yard in Bremerton, Wash., to live with an aunt in the East. His children need mothering.

Ed Spieler and Joe Sutherland are out of work. It is to be hoped they will not lose their homes, but they are behind in payments.

Thomas Gleason has gone from Clear Lake, Wash., to Underwood, Wash., in care of G. W. Cooper. If he sticks there, he will be better off.

Horace and Mary Flagg Weston have moved to Sixth and Grant, Vancouver, Wash., the house being sold over their head, was the reason.

Jack Betram has his money tied up as a result of the closing up of the Portland State Bank by the Bank Examiner.

Supt. Tillingshast of the Oregon State for the Deaf was sent to the hospital for an operation again for gall stones. Fears are entertained for his recovery.

Do not come west unless you have the money to carry you. It may be wild out here, but work is still scarce.

THEO. MUELLER.

PORTLAND, OREGON

On February 7th Rev. J. O. C. Beyers gave a surprise party to Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Spralta, who have been married for ten happy years. Several of their deaf friends were present.

Ralph Pickett has been taking an enforced vacation for the last three weeks. The toe of his left foot was broken when a heavy iron board accidentally fell upon it. He is much better now and hopes to return to work the first of the week.

Mrs. Deliglio was hostess at a Valentine party February 11th. Mr. and Mrs. Reichle, being married 19 short years, were guests of honor. The house was appropriately decorated with hearts and cupid, and ice-cream, cake, and candy served as refreshments.

Mrs. Henry Nelson may have to receive her callers in her chicken house if rumors are true. The Nelsons have a "FOR SALE" sign out in front of their house, and Henry Nelson, so it is said, intends to first sell his home and with the proceeds of the sale he expects to build a modern bungalow on his lot behind his present house. While erecting his new home he says he intends to live with his chickens and ducks. We hope he won't get into the habit of waking his neighbors up every morning by crowing at sunrise.

The Frats' party proved a huge success in spite of the few deaf Portlanders who came masked. Those winning prizes for costumes were Mrs. Hawley, Miss Eden, Mrs. Naylor, Miss Delashmutt, Mrs. Jorg, and Mr. Carl James. Between seventy-five and a hundred deaf-mutes were present, most without costumes. Still if they didn't care to come masked, they were not too lazy to do away with the cream puffs, cup cakes, and coffee the Frats had so thoughtfully provided for guests.

Miss Vinyard visited Mrs. A. Kautz February 18th, and remained in Portland for a couple of days. She is very popular with the Portland deaf, and we hope some day she will be able to leave Salem and come to Portland to reside.

Other visitors in Portland at the same time were Mr. and Mrs. Craven from Tillamook. They came to the city with Mr. Magarrell to attend the Frats' Party.

The Portland Silents have won another basket-ball game. After losing to McMinnville and St. Johns, they triumphed over the boys at the Salem State School. This is not very surprising, but it was a good game this year for the Salem boys have been winning most of their basket ball games this season. A return game will be played next week.

Mrs. C. H. Linde was given a surprise party for her 22nd Birthday, February 19th. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Spieler, Mr. and Mrs. Gerde, Mr. and Mrs. Kautz, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Craven, Mr. Reeves, Mrs. Delanoy, Mrs. Deliglio, and Miss Vinyard. The guests provided the lunch, and soon no one could tell outwardly that there had been any sandwiches, salad, cake, pudding, and coffee. Inwardly they wondered if it were possible for them to walk the four blocks to the car. Those not owning or using their autos finally made the distance without mishap.

The Blue Bird Club held an important business meeting February 20th, at the Public Library. A new constitution and by-laws were drawn up, and the name changed to the S. F. L. Club. In the autumn, if the members of the club find the constitution satisfactory after trying it out a few months, a permanent set of laws will be drawn and printed. Monthly dues and fines will be collected and put into the Club House Fund.

Many of the Portland deaf are sick with the flu, mumps, or other ailments. This month seems to be a sickly one, but as soon as spring arrives, and the ladies' thoughts turn to spring millinery, and the men's thoughts turn to backyard gardening, there will be little time to waste being sick. I hope to report soon that every one in Portland and Vancouver is well and strong. No deaths among the deaf have occurred here in Portland for many months.

The month of February witnesses the birthday of many famous people. Besides the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington, it is the birth month of Mr. J. Fisher, Mrs. E. Bertram, Mr. H. Darling, Mrs. C. Linde, Mr. R. Spieler, Mr. C. Beers, and Mrs. Deliglio.

The Delanoy and Cravens dined with the Fishers on February 5th. As Mr. Fisher celebrated his birthday the third of February, the dinner party was given as a little surprise to him.

Ballard Linde fell over a rug and seriously cut his head a week ago. Although now improving, he has been forbidden to go outdoors until the wound heals, and this keeps Mr. and Mrs. Linde at home a great part of the time at present. We hope the family will soon be out again in their Chevrolet.

To attend a surprise party is all very well when not directly concerned, but to be the goat at your own surprise party, especially when you are supposed to write about the affair, proves embarrassing. This happened February 25th, though I refuse to be a year older until the 28th of the month rolls 'round. More than this, Mrs. Delanoy was thoughtless enough to remind me with an additional candle that another birthday would be coming in twelve short months. To tell the truth, I am so overwhelmed that I can't find thanks enough to pass around to the sixty guests. Only rhyme can do the affair justice, so here goes:

They poured by scores into the house
Till three times twenty came,
They piled the tables mountains high
With foods I cannot name.
And when I opened all my gifts,
Such handkerchiefs I found!
Apron, book, flowers and bureau scarf,
And candy by the pound.

They wouldn't let help 'em work,
And just because of that—
And eating cake and sandwiches—
I know I'm twice as fat!
I want to thank 'em one and all,
They were so good to me;
But it has set me wondering
What date THEIR birthdays be.

OHIO.

(News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 908 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.)

March 4, 1922.—The long sought wish—a new building for the men at the Home for the Aged and Infirmit Deaf—has at last been realized, and to-day the men who occupied the little old cottage are now sheltered in a substantial comfortable building, having all the modern facilities for comfort, heat, light, bath-room and new furniture. It must be a heaven to them compared to their habitation.

Last Saturday afternoon and evening was set for the housewarming. Invitations had been sent to the different societies and N. F. S. D. Divisions of the State, all who have assisted in the raising of funds with which to erect the building, and who have or are furnishing the rooms at the Home, to attend the function. Anyone however who desired was welcomed. Nearly every society had a representative present.

The weather proved pleasant, though a little cold, and about 150 availed themselves of the trip via bus, automobile and cars. Many of the villagers also came over during the afternoon and evening.

The Stars and Stripes floated from the flagstaff on the front lawn, and as the folks stepped from the vehicles seemed to bid them over to the new building and it required no other coaxing to go there.

As soon as one entered the north door and proceeded east in the hall to its end, you were in the reception rooms and it surely smacked of newness with its nice rugs, gray tinted walls, rockers and chairs. A stand, upon which stood a vase of beautiful flowers and above the mantel over a huge fireplace hung a large framed picture of the late A. H. Schory, who during life had devoted much of his time and energy to the Home. The room is furnished in his memory by Mrs. Schory.

The furniture in all the rooms is walnut tint except one. It consists of a bed, dresser, stand, chairs, rocker.

The floors are covered with rugs. Most of the rooms hold two men, and the one furnished by the N. F. S. D. Ohio Divisions can accommodate three. This room is nicely furnished and had upon its stand a cluster of deep red roses. Other rooms in the building also had flowers. They were donated by Mr. Joseph Goldman, of Middletown, Ohio, from his own conservatory. The dining rooms showed his generosity, and to cap the climax the residents were presented with a flower each.

The building was inspected throughout by the visitors and received much favorable comment. Every Society, Club, or Division working for the Home, had a representative present. Cincinnati was represented by Mrs. Herman Ekins, Mrs. W. E. Hoy, Mrs. Bert Wortman, Mr. Louis J. Bacheberle and Joseph Goldman, Dayton by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stebleton and Miss Clara Lingle, Piqua by Mr. Ray Block and Mrs. Bessie Horn, now of Zanesville, Toledo by Mr. Dennis Hanna, Cleveland by Mrs. Smolk, Bellaire by Mrs. Samuel W. Corbett, Springfield by Misses Stella Huffman and Nellie Bykett, Columbus by the resident managers of the Home, and each society of the city had representatives there.

Lunch was served by the Columbus organizations to all visitors in the evening, after it there were some speeches by Mrs. Hoy, Mrs. Hanna, Miss Lingle and others. About 8:30 the party returned to the city. Last Friday evening the visiting delegates to the housewarming and a few Columbus friends were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wark, and a pleasant time had in games and social talk. Refreshments were served. These attended: Mrs. Bert Wortman, sister of Mrs. Wark, Mr. Louis J. Bacheberle, Mr. Joseph Goldman, Miss Clara Lingle, Mrs. W. E. Hoy, Mrs. Herman Ekins, Mesdames Beekert, Cook, Mayer, Winemiller, Neutzling, Ohlemacher, Neuner, Clum, Zorn, Callison, Zell, Smolk, Misses Zell, Lamson, Greener, Mc Gregor, Druggan, Biggam, and Messrs Zorn and Zell.

Mrs. Bert Wortman, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Samuel W. Corbett, of Bellaire, stayed over with relatives in Columbus, after the housewarming and visited the school during one week. Mrs. Dennis Hanna also stayed a few days with friends.

There is much sickness prevailing, among the officers, teachers, and pupils, mostly from the flu. However, the malady is of a mild type and if a person is careful yields rapidly to treatment.

ALTOONA, PA.

Mr. J. H. Buterbaugh made a flying trip to Washington, D. C., February 12th, and then to Philadelphia to see his little nephew at the Mt. Airy School for the Deaf.

Mr. Charles Saylor and Mr. George Chatham went to Mt. Airy, February 12th. The former was to see Dr. Crouter, Superintendent of the School, and the latter was to see his daughter.

Mrs. J. H. Buterbaugh has been very busy painting a great many Valentine post cards, and succeeded in selling them. She is getting busy again painting Easter cards for sale.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Curtin, in the Klesius apartments, was the scene of an enjoyable party, Saturday evening, February 11th, when a number of deaf-mutes were entertained. The affair was in the form of a Valentine function and was greatly enjoyed. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brookbank, Mr. and Mrs. David Singerman and children, Charles McArthur and Gilbert Singerman.

For the benefit of the Deaf-Mutes' Mission of St. Luke's Church, a chicken and waffle supper was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saylor, 615 East Grant Avenue, Saturday evening, February 18th. Deaf-mutes from Bellefonte, Tyrone, Johnstone, Ebensburg, and Gallitzin attended the supper, which was a success both financially and socially. After supper the guests had a merry evening until midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Zimmerman, of 608 Crawford Avenue, celebrated their sixteenth wedding anniversary Wednesday afternoon, February 25th, by entertaining forty-five friends to a card party and a chicken and waffle supper. The couple received many beautiful gifts in remembrance of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saylor, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brookbank, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Buterbaugh, Mrs. Abe. Richman, and Charles McArthur, went to Gallitzin Friday evening, February 24th, to witness a game between Silent Five, a basketball team from Blair and Cambria Counties, and the Gallitzin American team. The Silent Five lost to Gallitzin 37—31. The Silent Five has been drilling for the past two years, staging games among themselves with Friday evening's exhibition the first with and outside team. Those present were: Lenz, Slonaker, Snaibly of Johnstown, Coanshook of Gallitzin, and McArthur of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Buterbaugh, Abe Richman and Geo. Chatham, went to the N. F. S. D. banquet in Pittsburgh, February 25th, and had an enjoyable evening until midnight.

Abe. Richman visited his parents at Washington, near Pittsburgh, February 26th.

ALBANY

Maccabee's hall was taxed Saturday evening, February 18th, to accommodate the merry throng which gathered for the Valentine party given by Albany Division, No. 51, N. F. S. D. This was the first affair of this kind held No. 51. A number of features was introduced during the evening.

Mesdames Paul Sack and John Lyman, assisted by Miss Fraser and Mrs. Root, took charge of the big feed and ran it on a most happy style for the benefit of No. 51. Guests were persuaded they needed things they never had bought before and probably never would again.

The entire evening was given with a zest and finish which bespoke weeks of arduous drilling on the part of the social committee, under the capable direction of Paul Sack, to whom great credit is due.

Among those present: Bernard John, Joe Wiegand, Peter Corrigan, Mrs. Frank McMahon, Miss Helen Cahill, John Seely, Fred Lloyd, Miss Nellie Hill, Philip Johnson, James Wall, Milton Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mull, Miss Hotelling, Earl Calkins, Miss Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. John Lyman, Robert Armstrong, Miss Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Spiwak, Mr. and Mrs. Mineker, Mr. and Mrs. VanWormer, Francis Piccard, Mr. and Mrs. Waters, Messrs. Lyden, Morris, Colwell and Mendelowitz, Mr. and Mrs. Geith, Messels Dalton, Moore and Mendelsohn, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sack, Miss Brantfuhr, Messrs. Klier, Krans, Borowick and Cermack, Misses Cermack, Frenz, Coulter and Lapanis, Van Buren Lockrow, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith.

At the regular meeting of No. 51, held last month, there was some discussion of the advisability of holding a masque in April, and although no date was fixed, it appears likely that such an event will occur.

EASTERN, IOWA.

Davenport police are searching for a masked robber who entered the home of George Schneider, 177 Brown street last evening, and robbed Mrs. Schneider of $41 at the point of a revolver.

The man took advantage of the fact that the couple are bereft of speech and hearing, and his entrance into the house was easily effected. The husband was in another part of the dwelling and did not know what had taken place until after the bandit had gone.

According to the report given the police the man appeared suddenly in front of Mrs. Schneider, a handkerchief concealing his face, and menaced her with the weapon. He secured $5 from her pocketbook, $6 from a dresser drawer, and $30 from another drawer, which belonged to a club of which Mrs. Schneider is treasurer.

Still pointing his weapon at Mrs. Schneider the man backed out of the house and left. Police were notified and secured the neighborhood but found no trace of the man. He was described as about five feet ten inches, weighing 155 pounds, and wearing a dark belted overcoat and dark cap.

The above was clipped from Davenport Daily Times, January 7, 1922.

The Stork left a baby girl in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, La Salle, Illinois, October 28th last. Mother and baby are getting along fine.

The Davenport Division, No. 59, gave a Poor Frat Party in the I. O. O. F. Hall, February 11th last. About twelve came from out of the Tri Cities to attend. Mr. Olof Larson, of Des Moines, Iowa, and Mrs. B. Jennisch, of Rock Island, Illinois, each won a prize. Allen joyed themselves splendidly.

Mr. Lewis L. Matthews, who worked in a barber shop in East Moline, Ill., for about a year, left to accept a similar position in Davenport, Iowa. He is getting along as well as the first class Union Barbers.

Mr. Ovin F. Rutledge owns and runs a Shoe Repairing Shop in Macomb, Ill. Lawson Kline works for him. They are doing big and good business.

The ladies of the Jolly Club had a nice party on February 25th, and all had an enjoyable time. Refreshments were served before the departure for their homes.

The Literary Society of the trities met in the I. O. O. F. Hall a few weeks ago. In a debate, Mr. and Mrs. A. Heritage were on the Aff. side, while Mr. and Mrs. B. Jennisch were on the Neg. side. Neither side won.

DELIGHTFULLY SURPRISED

At "La Nid," the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moynihan, on Saturday evening, a most delightful surprise birthday party was tendered Mr. Moynihan. Guests were from Brantford, Galt, Preston, Guelph and the Twin City. A very handsome gold watch fob was presented to Mr. Moynihan, along with an appropriate address, after which he responded most sincerely and yet gratefully.

Jolly games and jokes followed with dainty refreshments were indulged in, and the midnight had passed before the happy host and hostess bade the merry guests adieu.

The above item is from the Daily Record, a Twin City newspaper. Mr. Moynihan was a former Buffalo resident, and Mrs. Moynihan was a resident of Washington, D. C., where she also attended school.

A chrysanthemum measuring 10 inches across and 12 inches in depth was recently grown by an English florist.

AN INVITATION TO

The National Fraternal Society of the Deaf

TO MEET IN DENVER
IN 1927

DENVER'S HOTEL CAPACITY

Denver has 200 of the very best hotels in America, their rates are the most reasonable and their capacity has proven equal to all demands and is great enough to accommodate the largest of national conventions in the midst of its heavy tourist season. So, remember Denver, 1927.

Life Insurance in this Company, as a rule, costs you nothing. Looking back after 10 or 15 years have gone by, you know that if you had not saved that money for your annual premium, you would not have saved it at all!

The New England Mutual (Oldest Chartered Life Insurance Company in U.S.)
offers you the most liberal policy contract possible.

No discrimination against deaf-mutes. No charge for medical examination.

You gain nothing by delay.
